Welcome - CPD Brochure 23/24

Welcome

Berkshire Music Trust, as lead partner in the Berkshire Music Hub, is delighted to support schools to ensure that all children have access to music as part of a broad and balanced curriculum.

We are passionate about opportunities for all and seek to ensure that our offering to schools not only supports as many children and young people as possible but also supports the workforce through a variety of CPD training sessions.

We are fully embracing 'The power of music to change lives: a national plan for music education' and can't wait to work with you on fulfilling it's ambition for all children and young people.

Dawn Wren

GAIN CONFIDENCE IN CONDUCTING YOUR SCHOOL CHOIR

With Katie Minien and Bimbi Shaw-Cotterill

Bimbi Shaw-Cotterill (mezzo soprano) went onto read music at Royal Holloway, University of London, where she specialised in vocal performance and was a choral scholar. She continued her studies with Eileen Price, before gaining a place on English National Opera's course for Opera and Musical Theatre performance ("The Knack") for which she was a Lilian Baylis Bursary recipient. Bimbi went on to obtain a Distinction Diploma in Concert Singing from the University of London under the tutelage of Hazel Wood. In 2018, Bimbi decided to change direction and now thoroughly enjoys passing on her passion for singing through Berkshire Music Trust, working as a vocal animateur, vocal coach and conductor for Singing groups of all ages.

Katie graduated with a first class honours Musical Performance degree from Brunel University. Highlights of her university career include; composing and directing her own opera; solo performances in the University's Howell Theatre, and conducting the Brunel University Gospel Choir. Katie has managed projects for the sound design company Iconik Sonik. They composed and performed at the Weather, Art and Music Festival and the Calling the Tune Festival. In her role as Singing Development Coordinator/Vocal Animateur for West Berkshire, Katie is the musical director for four Newbury Music Centre choirs. Alongside colleague Bimbi Shaw-Cotterill, Katie is co Musical Director for the Junior Music Festival.

MAKING MUSIC OUTDOORS WITH EYFS

With Sally-Anne Brown MA Education (Early Years Music), BA (Hons) Music

Sally-Anne has over 25 years experience working as a woodwind teacher and began to work as a freelance Early Years music practitioner in 2005 after an increased interest in young children's musical interactions. Over the years she has delivered many 'open to all' music sessions in North Yorkshire and East Lancashire for families in Children's Centres and community groups and progressive sessions in nurseries and pre-schools. Sally-Anne has worked for charities and organisations including NYMAZ, Little Amber and Pioneer Projects which included working with children with EAL and visual impairment. She is passionate that every child should have access and encouragement to engage in music making, and is also keen to support those working in Early Years music and delivers talks and training for Note Weavers. Sally-Anne is also a tutor and student mentor on the Trinity Certificate for Music Educators: Early Childhood programme based at CREC in Birmingham. Increasingly interested in music in the classroom, she now works part time as a music specialist in 3 primary schools in North Yorkshire, planning, developing and delivering the music curriculum from Nursery to Year 6. Recently, Sally-Anne has worked as a consultant for the BBC Philharmonic on their musical retelling of the Story of the Gingerbread Man for CBeebies.

MUSIC THROUGH MOVEMENT FOR EYFS

With Danielle Ballantine-Drake

Danielle Ballantine-Drake is the Head of Early Years and Voice at Berkshire Music Trust. She has over 20 years of experience teaching music in a wide range of early years and school settings. Danielle believes that music is for everybody and that it is a powerful tool for communication, right from birth. She loves to inspire children and their adults to have the confidence to play and have fun through music-making with plenty of games, action songs and movement activities.

ABOUT THE CPD SESSION

Music moves us, and music makes us move! Join us to learn some inspiring ways to get young children moving to music through action songs, games, and dancing with scarves or ribbons. Movement can be a wonderful and instinctive way to discover the elements of music, and things like pulse, rhythm, and musical expression can all be experienced more deeply through movement.

ABOUT BEYMN NETWORK

MUSICAL ACTIVITIES TO SUPPORT LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT IN EYFS

With Danielle Ballantine-Drake

Danielle Ballantine-Drake is the Head of Early Years and Voice at Berkshire Music Trust. She has over 20 years of experience teaching music in a wide range of early years and school settings. Danielle believes that music is for everybody and that it is a powerful tool for communication, right from birth. She loves to inspire children and their adults to have the confidence to play and have fun through music-making with plenty of games, action songs and movement activities.

ABOUT THE CPD SESSION

Music is an accessible and enjoyable way in to learning for many children. Most of the fundamental skills needed for language communication can be deliberately strengthened through fun musical activities. There is a strong connection between language and music, and the building blocks of language are in fact musical.

We organise sounds into recognisable patterns (words/sentences), and we convey deeper meaning through musical elements such as tone and speed (e.g. emotion). Join us to learn a range of fun musical activities that specifically promote the development of language in the early years.

MUSICAL GAMES AND ACTIVITIES FOR THE PRIMARY CLASSROOM

WITH WENDY HARVEY

Wendy studied flute and piano at London College of Music before completing a PGCE in Secondary Music with an instrumental specialism at the Institute of Education. She went on to lead a highly successful music department in a London secondary school, teaching and leading music from KS3 – KS5 and coaching teachers across the school to improve teaching and learning. Since joining as Area Senior Leader in 2013, Wendy has trained to teach music to EYFS and KS1 as well as teaching general woodwind, choirs and whole class instrumental programmes. In 2022, Wendy joined the senior leadership team with responsibility for Curriculum and Early Years. Wendy is passionate about enabling schools to provide a high quality music education to every child, and has a particular interest in curriculum design.

ABOUT THE CPD SESSION

Are you looking for musical games and activities that will inspire and excite your students whilst re-enforcing musical learning? This practical, fun, session will equip you with lots of ideas for teaching the National Curriculum goals of performing, improvising, and understanding music notation. The session will include warm up games, songs, and activities for teaching simple music notation.
